

London ReFocus, as part of the Sightlines Initiative Network, invites early educators, artists and others in developing a creative and reflective approach to early years' education and inspired in their practice by the pre-schools of Reggio Emilia, Italy.

London ReFocus Open Meeting

Thursday, 29th November 2018 at

Balham Nursery School and Children's Centre

72, Endlesham Road, London SW12 8JL

4.30 p.m. for tours of the nursery, 5 - 6.30 p.m. for the meeting

Curious adults, curious children

Come and hear about Balham Nursery School's journey in developing an environment with challenging and open ended continuous provision to enable deeper levels of learning and engagement.

You will have a chance to see the environment and hear how we have worked as a staff to develop a reflective learning community which focuses on how we are learning and not just what we are learning.

Photo: Balham Nursery School

Balham Nursery School has used the Reggio Emilia approach as a mirror for reflective practice, taking care to ensure it is set in the context of their community. A recent Ofsted Inspection described their work as 'outstanding'. Members may have seen the article 'Into focus' published by Nursery World (5th March 2018) describing their creative use of digital technology.

How to get to the meeting:

By tube: Northern line (direction Morden) to Balham Underground Station

By rail: Victoria (Southern) to Balham Railway Station

By bus: 155, 249

How to book: please register at www.sightlines-initiative.com - Educators – Forthcoming Events . Members of Sightlines Initiative free, non-members £10

Book early! Numbers are limited due to constraints on space.

For other queries contact: SolveigMorris@aol.com or 07939139640 (text)