

The Fascination of Enquiry

Sightlines Initiative Focus Day

Sat 10th November 2018 • 9.30 - 3.30 • Birmingham University • £165

Crafting education from the principles of relationship, encounter, enquiry, exchange and expression -

this is a core aim of Sightlines Initiative and the settings in its network, informed by close encounters with the preschools of Reggio Emilia, and with colleagues from the Reggio International Network. The day will be a mix of presentations and discussions, all designed to mark, question and progress our pedagogy.

OUTLINE AGENDA

What does it mean to say 'inspired by Reggio'? - Examining pedagogical development grounded in Sightlines' and Reggio's principles: Robin Duckett; (including 'Languages of Evaluation – evaluating practice from our principles', Peter Moss)

Researches: focussing on democracy – Sightlines Network West Midlands; 'the interplay of expressive languages' – Sightlines Network London

Strategies for documenting and presenting the messages of shared learning (viewing and examining aspects of 'The Many Faces of the Assembly' (Reggio Children)

Whether you're already involved in our network or want to find out more, the day is for you. We welcome you to attend from independent and statutory early childhood and primary settings.

On the previous day, in nearby Telford, we are holding An Encounter with Madeley Nursery School . This can make an ideal two-day professional development event.
